

Eagle Armor by APOC is Now Available Nationwide

The high-performance underlayment that provides protection for homes and commercial buildings against hot, humid conditions, blistering sun, rain, wind and more is now available to East Coast and West Coast customers.

RIALTO, Calif. (PRWEB) January 02, 2020 -- Eagle Roofing Products, the industry leader in concrete roof tile manufacturing and innovation, has launched its newest roofing component within the Secure Tile Roof Components line, Eagle Armor by APOC, to customers nationwide.

Eagle Armor by APOC is a premium, all-purpose fleece top underlayment and leak barrier suited for concrete tile roofs, metal roofing systems, and foam or mechanically fastened roof systems. Its patented three compound adhesive system and reinforced seamed technology provides maximum waterproofing protection, preventing wind driven rain, ice dams, leaks and water damage.

“We are excited to make Eagle Armor by APOC – a top-quality USA Owned, USA Made product – available to both our East Coast and West Coast customers,” said Tyler Allwood, Director of Business Development. “We feel strongly that this new underlayment will benefit our customers in all climate regions by providing them with another necessary components in order to install a proper, long-lasting tile roof system.”

In addition, customers will benefit from a 30 Year Protection Plus Limited Warranty associated with Eagle Armor by APOC.
