Trim and Field Tile Color Match

ISSUED: OCTOBER 15, 2026

Eagle Roofing Products manufactures concrete roof tiles in batch quantities. While every effort is made to maintain consistency across batches, occasional color variations may occur, particularly when there are intervals between production runs for a specific color or profile, such as between different projects or adjacent properties.

There may also be variations between field tile and trim tile (i.e. hip, ridge and rake tiles) with the same product name and number. These products are run at different times and, in some cases, on different manufacturing lines.

These variations do not constitute manufacturing defects, as they have no impact on the material's performance, and are therefore not covered under the Eagle Roofing Products written warranty.
